

Driving Cost Out of Healthcare Insurance

The Business Challenge.

Provide cost-effective IT services for a leading healthcare insurance company.

The Solution.

Unisys advisory, implementation and integration services related to Opentext Documentum as the central Document Management and Archiving solution, with ~1B data records; consolidated different document management solutions of 5 health care insurers into one architectural system.

Results and Benefits.

- Reduced costs with a faster and ongoing access rate
- Improved speed of processing as relevant documents are always available
- Lowered operational costs for services providers
- Achieved a streamlined application landscape

“Unisys is our strategic partner for document management advisory and implementation services. All projects have been completed on time and budget with high quality. They have the vision and experience to support our business objectives of driving cost out of health care insurance through digital transformation”.
