

Is complexity eating your hybrid cloud ROI?

Where most hybrid clouds break down

Security management:

More exposure, less visibility

Integration:

Systems that won't cooperate

Scalability:

Demand spikes, unplanned gaps

Data privacy:

Compliance varies by region

Migration:

More complex than it looks

In-house expertise:

Skills gaps slow progress

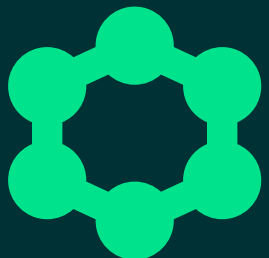

What to do instead

Take control with centralized management

Make security and compliance continuous

Match every workload to the right environment

Choose the right operating model

Scale on demand, perform consistently

Modernize the applications holding you back
