Service experience enhancement

As the “face” of IT operations, your service desk is crucial for effective employee tech support. An innovative service desk balances user experience, security and quality assurance with operational efficiency to minimize downtime and maximize productivity.

The Agentic Service Desk solution enhances agent productivity through automation, real-time insights and intelligent workflows. Streamlining task completion and processes improves service delivery and user experience.

Powered by Unisys Service Experience Accelerator technology, the solution harnesses generative AI capabilities. It complements Unisys Digital Assistant, our AI-powered chatbot, and the Unisys Enterprise Knowledge Management solution, which continually manages and optimizes knowledge bases for a better user experience. Self-healing capabilities address issues proactively and an omnichannel experience empowers users to submit and manage requests and incidents in the way that they prefer.

Boost productivity with self-healing IT

Benefit from a service desk that can detect and resolve issues before they disrupt user experience or productivity.

The Agentic Service Desk solution takes you beyond the limitations of a traditional service desk. This intelligent workplace service combines expert delivery staff, robust process controls and AI technology. Utilize service desk for first-line user support, ticket management, incident management and self-healing. It also offers remote assistance, knowledge management and automated response.

How you benefit

- Increased operational efficiency: Enable employees to work more efficiently with minimal interruption, resolving issues through an omnichannel support system. You'll control IT spending while maintaining or even improving service quality.
- Adaptable support: Adapt your service desk to the changing needs of the business, scaling up or down as required. The solution's flexibility also lets you evolve your capabilities as needs and technology change.
- Stronger security: Strengthen your cybersecurity with a service desk built on a Zero-Trust framework. Enhance in-tenant trust through secure automation and AI/ML algorithms that keep data in place while enabling expanded use cases.
- Better user experience: Agentic AI assists live agents through conversations using a persona-aware Agent Copilot real-time assistant. Surface the right knowledge at the right moment, including automated compliance checklists and auto-summarization.
- Quality assurance: Heighten service excellence with regular reviews of service desk performance to ensure you're meeting value and service objectives. Leverage sentiment and empathy analysis along with nearly full coverage of all contacts using AI-enabled evaluations.
- User autonomy: Empower users to handle their own requests with a service portal and AI chatbots that provide instructions, knowledge base articles and FAQs. Proactive issue detection and resolution ensure minimal disruptions and boost productivity.
